Nearing the Century, What About the Flag?

On July 1, 1867 Canada became a nation. Ninety-four years later it still does not have a distinctive Canadian flag. Composite picture above shows the Red Ensign (right) which is now in general use for official purposes. At left is the flag British Columbia has decreed as its own, created by simply transferring the shield of the provincial coat-of-arms to linen. The centre leaves it open as to what the nation may have by the time it has a wing-ding centenary celebration in 1967.

Less Than 100 Years Ago

John A. Macdonald was able to proclaim confederation. The im-probable federal union of four regions, Nova Scotia, New Bruns-wick, Upper and Lower Canada was accomplished. Surmounting the rivalries of two separate races, reigions, tongues and cultures, nation was created. A frail infant had emerged in pain from the agonies and frustrations which had threatened its birth.

A child of necessity, the new Canada had modest hopes only of survival. To the south stretched the robust and vigorously growing United States. West of Upper United States. West of Upper Canada reached the open, empty spaces of the prairies and, beyond the Rockies, the colony of British Columbia not then ready for confederation. Within the four original provinces lay the embers of old conflicts, the sparks of new. The times were troublous.

The Fathers of Confederation, the leading figures, Macdonald, Georges Etienne Cartier, George Brown, Charles Tupper, knew the immediate purpose for which they worked. They needed a nation to stand against the expansion of the United States. They could not see of the future. Almost blindly they lunged into the years ahead, break-ing in dissension at time, but never quite fracturing the compact of nationhood.

Tomorrow, less than 100 years later, Canada, still a young nation, celebrates its anniversary in times still troublous—threatened perhaps with greater danger than ever be fore in a world that faces the possibility of near-total annihilation.

NINETY - FOUR YEARS AGO do their descendants today tread paths equally uncharted, infinitely more hazardous in certain terms of survival.

Yet, within the lifetime of people still with us, Canada has emerged from sea to sea.

Our present troubles are grave. Our growth has not been a continuous history of success. The errors of our past are all too obvious. Our basic weaknesses are not forgotten.
We suffer and have suffered from LOOSE ENDS mistakes of our own making and as the victim of mistakes made by

Yet, in defiance of obstacles, Canada is NOWADAYS we don't put too much a city but here, on this verdant coast, because they had no boots. Yet that less of the weather if its accidents are It has grown strong, has taken an honored position among nations, has, in a measure, provided leadership in their councils.

Tomorrow Canadians may take time to look back upon this story of survival, of increasing strength, and seek some reason for it.

They will find reason in the character Canada has developed resolution, a form of national of canada the governporting other virtues, a unique and practical and several and resolution, a form of national of Canada the government says one thing ment says one thing and does another, Hutchison why then the intelligence of men is at a discount, like the Canadias dellar But work

In these days, when storm signals are flying, when Canadians, with other peoples, lurch into an uncertain future, it will be of comfort to them to look back upon the character which has brought us to our position in 1961. We have sure fort to them to look back upon the character which has brought us to our position in 1961. We have surour mistakes, moved forward d gained stature. The character it has brought us this far should noted. It is the character on the character of the character on the character of t mounted dangers, overcome many and gained stature. The character that has brought us this far should be noted. It is the character on which Canada will have to depend to advance through the problems that lie so closely ahead and those that stretch so far they cannot yet be identified.

The farmers survived it somehow.

I remember sitting on the steps of a decaying house, somewhere in southern Saskatchewan, with a farmer who had sowed a crop every spring for five years and reaped no grain.

SOMETIMES in the winter, he said, his daries, we take little notice of it.

This is pretty strong stuff for Mr.

Fleming and Mr. Diefenbaker to have to swallow. They have categorically rejected any move to have Canada participate in any trade grouping, and they have been threatening the U.K. against any such action. In this whole matter, the Common

This switch has had, and is having, a profoundly beneficient effect upon the egos of the morning paper read-ers. Such fools these fine people are, and what is more regrettable (or more natural) for early risers to derive satisfaction and amusement from the incredible stupidities of the sleek characters who people the soap

Over the past year this column has been keeping a close watch upon both Rex Mud-hen, M.D., and Judge Parker, and has come up with some startling statistics. Assuming that each day's episode in their extraordinary lives occupies an average of one hour of time, and that (exclusive of Sunday supplement expanded adventures) they ac-cordingly perform a working year of 313 hours, it takes only a little observation to realize that these paragons of virtue are in a bad way. Dr. Mudhen, I'll have you know, during the last working year, has not seen a single patient in his office, nor has his beautiful but dumb nurse-cum-secretary sent anyone a bill. How, you may well ask, does he manage to maintain the flashy plant where he works, as well as get a new car every year? There's only one answer. He peddles dope on Monday mornings, when there is no paper.

As for Judge Parker, he should have been fired or retired long since. He has done an honest day's judicial work since he was appointed to the Bench. No doubt his was appointed to the Bench. No doubt his brother judges have been grumbling about it, all this hanging around the house in his dressing gown, smoking his manly pipe, while they have to sweat it out in the Courthouse. Of course, Judge Parker keeps busy on the government's time. He gives sage advice to people in trouble at every opportunity. He just can't keep his nose out of other people's business. I have grave doubts about the Judge's sagacity myself; each and every one of the poor clots whose problems he solves are either morons in need of institutional care, or congenital fools who need not sympathy but a swift kick where it not sympathy but a swift kick where it would do the most good.

I can't think how I could face the day without a small dose of this inspired lunacy first thing. It really sets one up. And, by way of encouragement to the boys down the hall, it might even be that a little of their news rubs off on the morning paper addict at the same time.

BRITISH OPINION DIVIDED OVER NEW BERLIN CRISIS

Found Guilty

A WRITER'S DIARY

By ROBERTSON DAVIES

It was eight weeks ago that I made mention of Isaac Watts' "Bowel Hymn" as a curious example of the changes that take place in the flavor and meaning of words. Last week I suggested that some comment on hymns generally might interest you.

No sooner had I written those words than I realized how foolish they were. Even the briefest discussion of hymns as poetry would fill 10 of these columns, Any good hymn book is an anthology of verse, most of which is accomplished and some of which is the work of genius in this realm.

It is curious that poems addressed to the Christian God, to Christ or Mary, are 50 rarely given serious considerately given serious given ser

One of the problems facing church-goers in large ministerial life. One of the problems lacing childrengoes in large communities today is a lack of knowledge of their pastor. Is the man in the pulpit a sincere and dedicated servant of God, working selflessly in the interests of his flock? Does he practice what he preaches? Or is he cynical, frustrated, a defeated time-server who can't abide the hopeful, upturned faces which confront him seech Sunday morning?

It is not often that novel readers get a glimpse into the minds and hearts of priests. A better understanding of their motivations and problems will result from a reading of "The Edge of Sadness," which fills a gap in contemporary literature of the church.

reedom of the Press hat precisely is meant by that familiar phrase, 'freedom of the press'?

undamentally it is not a special privilege reserved for newspaper publishers. It is rather a phase of a much larger freedom — the freedom of all men to speak their minds openly and without fear. The press claims no right which should not belong to every citizen in a democracy. But freedom of the press is an all-important part of this larger freedom because under modern conditions, the press is the principal agency by which the ordinary man receives the information he needs to judge the actions of his rulers and make up his mind on public affairs. Without newspapers, or with only gagged and blindfolded ones, he is in the dark, and helpless. An unfettered press is therefore one of the essential f any proof be needed, it is supplied by the record of the totalitarian dictatorships which have darkened the twentieth century. Rigid control of all sources of public information, and especially of newspapers, was the cornerstone on which all these regimes — Nazi, Fascist and Communist alike — were founded. Without it, they could hardly have lasted for more than a few months. With it, they could keep their peoples in blinkers and drive them on any course they chose. The calamities of our age, its fear and insecurity, stem in no small measure from the simple fact that at critical periods great sections of the earth's population have been prevented by their rulers from learning the real news of the world.

hese examples should provide a warning against any attempt, by governments or by private interests, to restrict the essential freedom of the press. A free people must stand on guard not only against direct censorship but also against more insidious encroachments. Normal freedom is not enough. The only truly free press is one which can record the news faithfully and comment on it frankly without fear of direct or indirect punishment. Neither the press nor the public is safe with anything less than this.

Il liberty, of course, involves obligations. That of a free newspaper is to be truly free. It must strive to be thorough, accurate and unbiased in its report-ing, sincere and thoughtful in its editorials and resistant to all outside pressure. must be both cautious and bold-cautious until it knows all the facts, bold when it is sure of its ground. It must above all be inspired by devotion to the public welfare as its staff understand it.

uch a newspaper is worthy of the privileges which the free peoples of use world have traditionally granted to their press. Such a newspaper is also the best guardian of the liberties of the people.

He's no George Bayer physically. From his calluses to his curls he can't stretch more than five feet, seven inches.

"It's good to see you, Ron, I said.

"You're looking fine yourself," he said.

"I want you to meet my other half," Hewlett added.

"Prince Hal of Malone, this is Prince George of Buckingham."

"George is my coach." Hewlett said. "If I make a good shot, I'm a hero. If I flub one, it's all his fault."

Everything 'Looks' Fine to Hewlett

The remark was made in jest. But Buckingham, sistant pro at Royal Colwood, knew there was more than a grain of truth to it.

a grain of truth to it.

Ron Hewlett can't play a single golf stroke without Buckingham. Ron Hewlett is blind.

Total darkness came to him one August day 17 years ago. An array instructor at Camp Petawawa, he was teaching recruits the proper method of handling hand grenades. A rookie pulled the pin on a grenade. Hewlett yelled at him to freeze. The rookie's hand jerked and the grenade fell to the ground.

As he had done in England twice before, Hewlett jumped on it. He didn't get there in time. The inside of his mouth was blown out. His eyes were burned. He spent 17 months hospital.

The courage he demonstrated that day at Petawawa has never left Hewlett. Until three years ago he played a prominent role in rehabilitating the blind in Calgary. A heart attack suggested a move to a milder climate. So Hewlett, attack suggested a move to a minder climate. So Hewiett, his wife and their two sons, came to Victoria.

A year ago he and a partner began a tell-time service here. At Hewlett's insistence, only handicapped people were hired. Not having seen him since I wrote a piece about his business endeavor, I asked him how it was.

"It isn't," he said. "I can't understand why it didn't go. We were getting over 100,000 calls a month. But it was something new and Victoria doesn't always yield willingly to new ideas." He didn't sound bitter. He's learned to accept the hall whichever way it bounces.

'A Ball In Your Pocket at 50 Yards'

"I understand you're playing some good golf," I said.
"Never played better in 12 years," he said. "I shot 104-101-99 in three rounds this month. I didn't know it but they tell me I was low qualifier in all Canada for the International Blind Golf championship at Cleveland July 6-7-8-9."
He removed his cap, wiped perspiration from his brow.
"This will be my third try at the International," he said.
"I think maybe I can win it. I was fourth at Philadelphia, third at Birmingham. Charley Boswell, the fellow that nearly always wing it, shoots a 94 or 95. I'm getting close to that."
"Say," he said, "how would you like me to put a hall in

"Say," he said, "how would you like me to put a ball in

"Say," he said, "how would you like me to put a oan myour pocket at 50 yards with a nine iron?"

I thought he was kidding. Buckingham said: "Walk 50 yards down the fairway, We'll show you."

I did. Buckingham put the ball down. Hewlett tried two or three practice swings then stepped up. His first ball was 20 feet short and to the right. The accord soared. Automatically I ducked, It fell five feet behind me. Twice more he did the same thing. The last time he missed me by 10 feet.

"Well, first of all you have to know how to swing."
Hewlett said. "George never tells me how far away the flag is. He makes me practice swing. He looks for the weight in my swing. When he sees the one he wants he says "that's it." The rest is up to me."

How to Frustrate a TV Cameraman

At the putting green, Buckingham lined up the ball, said "You're on it. Ron. You've got about 12 to 15 feet." Hewlett locked his arms ("I used to break my wrists but Bill Court made me try the pendulum swing and I've been doing much better") and hit four balls. The farthest stopped two feet from the hole. One shot rippled the hole, went inches past. "That kind of putting will win for us at Cleveland,"

"Win or lose, I'm looking forward to it," said Hewlett. "After the finals, many pros not on the gold trail match up with us in foursomes. I've played with Jackie Burke and Ed Furgol. Maybe I'll get Arnold Palmer or Gary Player "I really had fun at Birmingham. They were televising the matches and bringing the camera in close. I bent over a putt once and I could hear the camera. Just for fun I picked up a blade of grass, threw it over my shoulder and turned to 'watch' it.

"Behind me I heard a cameraman say: Damn you, Hewlett. I just wasted 50 feet of films Howinhell can I show tennis championships Thursday.

LONDON (CP)—Upsets by United States players in the men's and women's singles and a narrow victory by Canada's men's doubles team in a gruelling match were standouts at the 75th Wimbledon tennis championships Thursday.

Chris Crawford, a 20-year old Piędmont, Calif., college student, had his service booming and showed fine forecourt play as he turned the ranking tables on Italy's Nicola Pietrangeli with a 2-6, 6-3, 6-4, 6-4 victory.

Another Californian, hardvolleying Mimi Arnold from Redwood, surprised the gallery with a striaght sets victory over Australia's Lesley Turner, rated No. 4 in the women's singles. Little Miss Arnold took if 7-5, 6-4 in a brisk 53-minute contest.

Talking of the future, Mr. Iannarelli said plans are now underway to set up a minor hockey league for boys aged seven and up.
Figure skating will be or ganized under supervision for boys and girls with definite ideas of promoting adult skat-ing, he said.

There will be public skating for both adults and children and the function of a commer cial hockey league, with the possibility of organizing an in-termediate league, will wind the winter program in the main rink.

The curling rink program will include curling clinics and the organization of leagues.

and "improvident and hasty action caused by desire to create the illusion of accomplishing great things for Canada".

The treaty can't be implemented without British Columbia's consent, Mr. Argue told a public meeting here, and this leaves the federal government in a weak position to withstand Social Credit demands that the traditional embargo on large power exports be broken.

EXPLOILE VANCOUVER (CP)—Hon. Harry H. Stevens, federal minister of trade and commerce in the cabinets of Arthur Meighan and R. B. Bennett, described Swedish financier Axel Wenner-Gren and his associates Thursday as "European exploiters."

He told a service club power should be developed and utilized in the interests of the Canadian people.

He said he is in full agree-

His speech was highly critical of the whole Columbia handling. The Progressive Conservative government had "eaved in" to British Columbia demands on the High Arrow dam and the Libby dam in Montana, both controversial. High Arrow at the outlet of the Arrow Lakes on the Columbia would flood out 6,600 people and Mr. Argue quoted testimony by Gen. A. G. L. $2 Camping Fee Really New Tax

By FRANK RUTTER

Times Legislative Reporter The order from on high is: tax the provincial parks. Despite the fact that the $2-a-day fee to be charged campers in some parks this summer is "on trial" and despite the good excuses offered for the move, it nevertheless was ordered contrary to previous policy.

Don't be surprised next year if there is a $2 fee in all the parks for campers who stay more than two nights. Think, as Premier Bennett thought, of all the potential revenue.

Despite the fact that the parks belong to the people, they now must pay twice to use them — in taxes, and at $2 a day. The excuse offered by Recreation Minister Earle Westwood is that were seizing campsites for a whole summand not sharing. Surely a registration system would have been just as effective as a $2 fee in getting them out.

The word is that even Mr. Westwood opposed the idea a fee, but was overruled in cabinet. It's true the fee follows strong pressure from the B.C. Auto Courts and Resorts Association, although it reverses the stand of Premier Bennett, who after the recent ACRA Victoria convention said there should be a time limit but

Just for comparison: Alberta parks are free; Washington State parks charge 75 cents for camping; U.S. national parks are free, Canadian ones charge $1.

There is a marked reticence when you ask government officials how much money the fee will raise, and how many people will be forced to pay.

But tourists from the U.S. who want to spend a week tenting may not be too happy about a $10 charge.

Mr. Westwood says there have been few protests so far, but there are some in the mail alright, which he'll be seeing

The MLAs who must come from far and wide to Victoria for the session Aug. 1 are not the only ones put out by what some call "midsummer madness.

Provincial archivist Willard Ireland is in a tizzy, because he has the $70,000 Newcombe collection of objets d'art stored temporarily in the Parliamentary Restaurant. Orders are:

Mr. Bennett maintains a bold front about the date of the session and won't change it; Opposition leader Robert Strachan has sunk into resignation that his CCFers won't to the New Party convention in Ottawa.

Perhaps one of the other reasons it was called Aug. 1 is that the CCF annoyed Mr. Bennett in March by spinning the session then into the week after the prorogation time previously agreed upon. may get the same tactics from the Opposition in August. They will probably try to make the session go at least a week, and maybe spoil Mr. Bennett's plans to go to San Francisco Aug. 9.

But one of the Social Credit MLAs who was visiting Victoria this week observed: "If it goes on too long, he'li find himself sitting all alone in there."

"He" being the premier.

This year, Mr. and Mrs. Vic Powley of Allenby Street will have a new "gimmick" with them when they enjoy frequent holidays in the outdoors at Up-Island beauty spots. Eight-year-old Kin and his sister, Janis, 11, try out the new trailer that converts from a utility unit into a comfortable "sleeping apartment" when a specially-designed roof and walls are added. Planned and built by a family friend, Mr. Jack Moffat, the trailer will be "on trial" this weekend when the Powley family travel to Nanaimo where Mr. and Mrs. Powley will compete in archery trials. Both are ardent members of the Victoria Archery Club,

The Lyne family of Cadboro View are one of many boating families that spend most of their time "afloat" during warm weather months. Seen here, loading their Vertue class Kukri, they're all set to spend the weekend cruising "around the islands." Robin, nine, helps his sister, Ginny (left) get stores on board while Mr. and Mrs. Lyne watch proceedings. Ranzi, the spaniel pup, looks forward to her firth boating season. Another member of the "crew," a four-year-old black spaniel that answers to Toro, is already in the cabin, making sure that everything's "ship-shape."

Hooray! It's Holiday Time!

Saturday morning will see the beginning of the holiday season and all over Victoria, families will be busy preparing to turn dreams into reality. For many, it will be a trip in the family boat; others will take to the roads, anxious to try out new camping equipment. Local beaches will ring with the laughter of pint-sized beachcombers and the warm waters of green-edged lakes will draw masses of happy bathers. Whatever the choice, the women's department of the Times take this opportunity of wishing you a very happy holiday and many hours of pleasant relaxation in the months ahead.

For many Victorians, most of the holiday weekend will be spent at one of the attractive lakes that provide a "green belt" around the city. Here, 17-month-old Chris Cross, takes his first dip in the warm waters of Elk Lake, being given a friendly assist from his sister, Miss Lorraine Cross, and a friend, Mr. Ivan Draper, Local beaches that ring the city provide a holiday playground within a "stone's throw" of many homes. Seen "warming up" after a quick dip in the blue waters of the Strait are, left to right, Alice Genge, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Genge of Romney Road; Carol Crombie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. Crombie of Central Avenue, and Sally Holland, elder daughter of Dr. and Mrs. S. Holland of Transit Road.

Nearly every summer weekend. Mr. and Mrs. Barney Hagar of St. Charles Street, pack their camping gear and head for their lot on the Cowichan River for a return to "the simple life." Here, they get a hand in checking equipment from Elizabeth, 12, and Robin, nine, daughters of neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. David Porter, who often accompany the Hagars up-Island. Not seen in the picture but a regular member of camping "safaris" is the Hagar's 16-year-old son, John.

Food can present one of the biggest problems for campers, and an item Penny found should prove a boon to the campsite wife. It is sliced canned bacon from Denmark that salesman assured me was "especially delicious."

Bacon is partially defatted before canning. A can contains one pound of bacon, and is priced at 88c.

Cold chicken would be wonderful treat to have on hand over the holiday weekend. Store Penny visited this morning has a special price on large island birds, 37c a pound. (Regular price is 48c a pound, so this is quite a saving.)

Same store is featuring local broad beans this weekend, at attractive price of 2 pounds for 29c.

A very tasty tidbit that the family will relish on the breakfast table is a trio of English preserves. Three little jam pots contain ginger marmalade, lemon cheese, and pine-apple conserve, about seven ounces of each. Package is priced at 79c.

Another cold meat suggestion that will come in handyover the weekend for sandwiches is silver-sided beef that is pickled for 10 days in a special, home-made English brine.

Meat is a cut of lean round beef. Butcher suggests that it be boiled and simmered for one hour for every pound of meat, with carrots and onions dropped in for flavor. It makes the proverbial English dish when served hot with cabbage and potatoes, and for cold plate salads and sandwiches, is a must.

At 79c a pound, this weekend meat suggestion is economical as well.

If you would like to know where Penny shopped today, give her a call at EV 2-3131.

I plucked mine pencil-thin 20 years ago and they have never grown back."

A. Your experience was unusual. Generally the brows grow back so that the plucking process must be repeated periodically. I do not know what could have happened unless you injured the roots with treatment which was too rough. More likely, your brows would have thinned anyway. This is sometimes due to some or ganker or systemic condition such as a low thyroid. I suggest you see your doctor for a physical check-up.

Q. "Do varicose veins ever go away?"

A. So far as I know varicose veins do nut go away unless they have treatment. They can be removed by surgery and injections are sometimes used. However, if they are given care and treatment in the early stages, they may not be come worse.

HISTORIC MT. VERNON STATE DINNER SETTING

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy, breaking sharply with the stiff tradition of White House social affairs, will hold a state dinner next month on the lawn of historic Mt. Vernon.

The estate of the country's first president, for years a major tourist attraction, will be the scene of a state dinner July 11 for Pakistani President Mohammed Ayub

Mrs. Kennedy, who apparently got the idea during her trip to Europe, visited George Washington's colonial home recently to check over arrangements for the affair. Wearing a beige raincoat over a green dress, she quickly supplanted the stately shrine as a tourist attrac-tion. Gawking sightseers trailed after her, snapping pictures feverishly

Many of the approximately 100 guests to be invited to the lawn party will be ferried there aboard the presidential yacht Honey Fitz. The lawn overlooks the Poto-mae River.

Invitations to the Mt. Vernor dinner will be sent out in four or five days. The menu will be planned by social secretary Letitis Baldridge and the food will be prepared by the White House's French chef.

Instead of the usual long banquet tables, Mrs. Kennedy is expected to seat her guests at round tables on the Press secretary Pierre Salinger, asked what would happen if it rained the night of the party, appeared confident that such a bleak prospect would never occur.

Knee-high loading platform, wide rear doors and a flat floor speed up and simplify cargo

The semi-forward position of Bedford's controls makes cross-cab handling simpler. Wide sliding side doors allow easier entry and exit even in confined spaces.

Bedford's rugged 4-cylinder engine is built for efficiency and long life under all road conditions.

Consider economy-Bedford's short-stroke oversquare engine design reduces wear and tear on parts, cuts maintenance to an absolute minimum ... is ideally suited for stop-and-go city delivery, Consider power-high torque at low rpm is required for lively operation and the ability to get loads moving without undue strain on the engine. Bedford's rating is 85 ft. lbs. of torque at 2400 rpm. Compare these figures with other vans in Bedford's class.

Fully accessible engine compartment allows quick, efficient and economical servicing.

For low-cost maintenance, the engine is quickly and efficiently accessible; from the top, both sides and inside the cab. Parts and service for Bedford are available across Canada.

Bedford's strong body construction protects your cargo, ensures long van life.

Bedford bodies are of solid all-steel welded construction, and are primed with special rustinhibiting paint to preserve the working life of the van. Bedford comes in two sizes, the "90" and the "102", with 90-inch and 102-inch wheelbase respectively. Both are highly manoeuvrable, the "90" having a turning radius of 17 ft. and the "102" of 181/2 ft., and both are fitted with Bedford's lowfriction recirculating ball-race steering.

With all eyes in the financial community keenly ratching the effect of Finance Minister Fleming's budget on interest rates, it must have been disconcerting to the minister Thursday to see the Bank of Canada rediscount rate edge up from 2.80 per cent last week to 2.82 per cent this week on the sale of $95 million in 91-day government treasury bills.

BLIGHTY A BIT BALMY AS HOT SUN BEAMS

LONDON (AP) — A hot sun beamed on Britain for the second time in two days and this rare occurrence seemed to have made the natives restless.

Strange things happened.

A male rock 'n' roll singer with hair a foot long eloped to Scotland with a 16year-old girl, causing the girl's father to tell reporters:

"I'm against their marrying. would you like to have a son-in-law with hair longer than your daughter's?"

How you can help your boy if he sayswant to be a newspaperman.

Help him the same way you would if he set his sights on any other profession . . . medicine or law or teaching. First, make sure he knows exactly what he's headed for. Then, show him the best road to get there.

Newspaper work naturally attracts young people. It offers prestige, excitement, good pay, the opportunity for rapid advancement - and, most important, the satisfaction of making a real contribution to society. But, in return, it requires dedication, hard work, civic responsibility and basic integrity.

If your boy understands the responsibilities (as well as the rewards) of newspaper life, he's ready to prepare for it. The time for him to start is right now - while he's still in high school.

Newspaper work is divided into five major fields, Each requires special skills and special training for a successful career in it:

NEWS REPORTING AND EDITORIAL WRIT-ING - often considered the basics of newspaper work: gathering, reporting, editing or analyzing the news...or commenting on it for the newspapers' opinion pages. These tasks require curiosity, perseverance, the ability to write clearly. They call for training in a journalism school or department, or a broad liberal-arts college education.

BUSINESS - under the business department come accounting and finance, and frequently personnel work and sales promotion. Useful here are the ability to plan ahead, to get along with people, good business judgment and a knowledge of bookkeeping and office management. Some busidegree in accounting or management. In the case of sales promotion, a man needs ability in cre-ative copywriting or art.

ADVERTISING - the department that furnishes the newspaper with most of its revenue. People who sell advertising successfully often have a who sell advertising successfully often have a broad educational background in business, marketing, accounting and psychology. Above all, they enjoy meeting and talking with people, following through on sales problems and presenting new advertising ideas imaginatively.

CIRCULATION - Training and supervising newspaper boys and men who sell and distribute newspapers is the heart of circulation management. Sales training, general business experience and a broad education (including psychology and marketing courses) are helpful here.

PRODUCTION - the departments that turn words, photographs, ink and paper into the fin-ished newspaper. The departments offer technical job opportunities in typesetting, photoengraving, stereotyping and press operation. Although a high-school graduate can qualify for many trained jobs, a technical education is very helpful. An increasing number of graduate engineers are being employed in the production department.

Work on high-school or college newspapers is especially valuable training for any of these wspaper fields.

The whole newspaper story can't be told here. To learn more about its exciting employment opportunities, mail the coupon on this page. You'll receive a 22-page illustrated brochure, "Career Opportunities in the Daily Newspaper Business," a list of accredited journalism schools and other guides. Why not mail it today?

U-2 ALASKA FLIGHTS CHARGED BY RUSSIANS

MOSCOW (UPI) — An article in the army newspaper Red Star charged today that the United States was operating U-2 flights over Alaska to test equipment for "esplonage satellites."

"Certain quarters in the United States cannot abandon the disgusting habit of looking through their neighbors keyhole," an article signed by two colonels said.

The army officers warned that continued flights could "seriously aggravate the international situation" and said it was surprising that American officials didnot acknowledge the flights.

ALL THE LUXURY!

Every Vauxhall has its share of quality appointments but the Cresta tops them all. Here is the ultimate in spacious 6-passenger comfort-in right-size driving perfection at a sensible price.

ALL THE PERFORMANCE

This is especially true of Vauxhall's Velox and Cresta series with their responsive 6-cylinder power, which also offer the refinement of famous Hydra-Matic automatic transmission as an extracost option.

Vauxhall's famous for it. Such thoughtful things as four wide-opening doors, steering column gear shift, are standard-at no extra cost! And Vauxhall boasts a family-sized trunk, too.

Generous, foam cushioned comfort and a smooth, level-ride suspension are standard features on every Vauxhall. Big, wraparound windows, front and rear, make driving safer, more pleasurable.

This goes for Vauxhall's handsome Estate Wagon in particular, with its practical interior and folddown rear seat. A real boon for family travel and businessmen.

ALL THE ECONOMY!

With Vauxhall it starts with low initial price. And on the move you save every mile thanks to Victor's thrifty 4-cylinder power and rugged dependability.

$2 Camping Fee Really New Tax

By FRANK RUTTER Times Legislative Reporter

The order from on high is: tax the provincial parks. Despite the fact that the $2-a-day fee to be charged campers in some parks this summer is "on trial" and despite the good excuses offered for the move, it nevertheless was ordered contrary to previous policy.

Don't be surprised next year if there

Surely a registration system would have been just as effective as a $2 fee in getting them out.

The word is that even Mr. Westwood opposed the idea of a fee, but was overruled in cabinet.

It's true the fee follows strong pressure from the B.C.

Auto Courts and Resorts Association, although it reverses the stand of Premier Bennett, who after the recent ACRA Victoria convention said there should be a time limit but

Just for comparison: Alberta parks are free; Washington State parks charge 75 cents for camping; U.S. national parks are free, Canadian ones charge $1.

There is a marked reticence when you ask governmen officials how much money the fee will raise, and how man

Mr. Bennett maintains 2 boid front about the date of the session and won't change it: Opposition leader Robert Strachan has sunk into resignation that his CCFers won't get to the New Party convention in Ottawa. Perhaps one of the other reasons it was called Aug. 1 is that the CCF annoyed Mr. Bennett in March by spinning the session then into the week after the prorogation time previously agreed upon.

We may get the same tactics from the opposition in August. They will probably try to make the session go at least a week, and maybe spoil Mr. Bennett's plans to go to San Francisco Aug. 9.

But one of the Social Credit MLAs who was visiting Victoria this week observed: "If it goes on too long, he'll find himself sitting all alone in there."

"He" being the premier.

Footnote to Premier Bennett's appointment of former agriculture minister Newton P. Steacy to head the new B.C. office in San Francisco. All the time, working in the B.C. government travel bureau, was Arthur Peers, the man picked today by the federal government for its new SanFran
